NID Jorhat, Nakachari College win Creative Rube Goldberg Machine Challenge

THE CHALLENGE
Jorhat, Dec 1: Rector and director of I-CARE, Boses Institute, Father Anirudh Thakuram, emphasized the importance of creative thinking, particularly among the youth, highlighting their significance in shaping a brighter future.

Father Anirudh Thakuram was addressing the award ceremony of the Creative Rube Goldberg Machine Challenge, organized by Mahaspace at The Hub Jorhat, Boses Institute, on Friday.

Father Anirudh Thakuram later handed over the awards and certificates to the winners. Each winning team in both the technical and non-technical categories received prize money of ₹ 15,000, while the first runner-up received ₹ 5,000.

The winners of the technical category (Eco-Cycle) were the National Institute of Design, Assam, and the first runner-up were the team from Jorhat Engineering College.

The winners of the non-technical category (Chain Reaction Chain) were the team from Nakachari College, Jorhat, and the first runner-up were Jorhat Karmaveer Mahavidyalaya.

The sponsored guests present at the program included Dr. Ankur Choudhary, assistant professor, Jagadgurur, Parashuram University; Dr. Rishabendra Dasgupta, senior faculty, National Institute of Design, Assam; Dr. Pradyumn Mishra, assistant professor, Boses Institute, Jorhat; Dr. Dineshwar Choudhary, assistant professor, Nakachari College; Abdul Amin, assistant professor, Nakachari College; and Sudip Adhikary, assistant professor, Boses Institute of Design, Assam.

About 100 people, including participants from Jorhat Engineering College, Nakachari College, National Institute of Design, Assam, Jorhat Karmaveer Mahavidyalaya, and students and staff of Boses Institute, Jorhat, attended the programme.

The primary objective of the creative challenge was to provide a platform for students to explore themselves freely and develop their innovative skills. The event was divided into two categories, each with a unique theme. For the technical category, the theme was "Eco-Cycle", and the participants designed and built a Rube Goldberg machine demonstrating sustainable habits. The theme of the non-technical category was "Chain Reaction Chain", and participants created a Rube Goldberg machine that could trigger an off any electrical or mechanical device.

This challenge took place from November 11 to 16, and the final projects were displayed at Mahaspace on November 15 and 16. The projects were evaluated by a panel of jury members.

The programme concluded with a vote of thanks by Dippranjan Barua, manager of The Hub Jorhat, Boses Institute.
